

Board of Directors

February 14, 2017

Chair

Jennifer Lohse
Program Administrator
Tucson Foundations

Secretary

Kristine Lemke
Independent Consultant
KEL Insights, LLC

Treasurer

Sondra Greene
Chief Financial Officer
Capital Sisters International

Janet Stolfi Alfano
Executive Director
The Diaper Bank

Jessica Bartholow
Policy Advocate
Western Center on Law and Poverty

Flora Brewer
President
Paulos Properties

Corinne Cannon
Founder & Executive Director
DC Diaper Bank

Vicki Clark
Consultant
Building the Capacity of Organizations

Judith Cruz
CEO
Treasure Coast Food Bank

Kathleen DiChiara
President and CEO, Emeritus
Community FoodBank
of New Jersey

Jeff Fackler
Vice President
Supply Chain Walmart.com

Aric Melzl
Huggies Brand
Marketing Director
Kimberly-Clark

Beth Ruoff
Consultant
Strategic Communications and Planning

Liz Sutherlin
Executive Director, Emeritus
Happy Bottoms

Nancy Woodland
Executive Director
Westside Baby

Ex Officio

Joanne Samuel Goldblum
Chief Executive Officer
National Diaper Bank Network

The Honorable Jim Abeler
Chair, Human Services Reform Finance and Policy Committee
95 University Avenue W.
Minnesota Senate Bldg., Room 3215
St. Paul, MN 55155

Dear Senator Abeler,

On behalf of the National Diaper Bank Network, I am writing in support of an amendment to Bill SF 249 to add funding to provide diapers through the Minnesota Food Shelve program.

The National Diaper Bank Network is a network of over 300 diaper banks, including three in Minnesota, which distributed over 105,000 diapers in 2015 (we are still gathering 2016's numbers). We are committed to ensuring that families have the basic needs like diapers necessary to thrive.

Diapers are as essential to good health as food and medical supplies. Without sufficient diapers, children are exposed to increased risk of urinary tract infection and severe diaper dermatitis. Diaper dermatitis, for example, can cause pain, risk of infection, increased hospital costs, and distress among infants and their parents. Diapers also are necessary in advancing the mental health of children and their families. Children in a wet diaper are more likely to cry or be irritable, which can cause increased levels of stress in both child and parent. Stress negatively affects the architecture of the brain in young children. Plus, research the National Diaper Bank Network conducted through the Yale University MOMs Partnership reported a strong correlation between diaper need and maternal depression.<sup>i</sup> Diapers also affect a child and her parent's ability to participate in society. Parents who lack sufficient diapers for their child may be unable to leave their child in child care, and thus unable to work or attend school, which impacts the families economic well-being

Unfortunately for many families, diapers are not inexpensive; a year's supply of diapers can cost $960 or more. In a survey commissioned by Feeding America, low-wage clients of food banks admitted that they often stretch time between changes in order to make their diaper funds last longer or try to reuse disposable diapers.<sup>ii</sup> Families who visit food pantries for food often need diapers as well. Several members of the National Diaper Bank Network are primarily food banks who, recognizing the synergy between food insecurity and diaper need, added diaper programs to their offering in order to provide wrap around services. By adding diapers to the food shelves, families will be able to obtain two of their most basic needs—food and diapers—in a single location.

National Diaper Bank Network

Minnesota's diaper banks do great work, but they are limited in their ability to reach the 71,000 children under the age of three years old living in poor and low-income families. In a large state like Minnesota, with a relatively small number of diaper banks, providing diapers through the state's Food Shelves could help ensure that more families obtain the diapers they need. Amending SF 249 to include diapers would help make a good bill great, and go a long way in helping address diaper need in Minnesota.

Thank you for your consideration of this issue.

Yours,

A handwritten signature in black ink, appearing to read 'Alison M. Weir', is written over a light gray rectangular background.

Alison M. Weir, Ph.D., J.D.
Chief, Policy, Research, and Analysis
National Diaper Bank Network

---

<sup>i</sup> M. V. Smith, A. Kruse, A. Weir, & J. Goldblum. (2013). Diaper Need and Its Impact on Child Health. Pediatrics, 132(2), 253-259. doi: 10.1542/peds.2013-0597

<sup>ii</sup> Feeding America, In Short Supply (2012), available at <http://www.feedingamerica.org/hunger-in-america/our-research/in-short-supply/>